

PURCHASE A VEHICLE TO DEVELOP A MOBILE MEDICAL CLINIC
SERVICES FOR THE PEOPLE IN RURAL VILLAGES OF NORTHERN PROVINCE OF SRI LANKA BY THE FACULTY OF MEDICINE, UNIVERSITY OF JAFFNA WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE ALUMNI FACULTY OF MEDICINE JAFFNA.

The Jaffna Medical Faculty ALUMNI Association hereby request generous financial assistance for getting a vehicle (preferably a mobile clinic bus) to effectively reach and perform the screening as well as early detection of Non-communicable diseases among the under privileged community of northern part of Sri Lanka.

For that Jaffna Medical Faculty ALUMNI Association is organizing a Musical programme in October 14 and 15 of 2017 at Hoover Auditorium, Faculty of Medicine, University of Jaffna.

JUSTIFICATION FOR DEVELOPING A COMMUNITY OUTREACH PROGRAMME:

Following justifiable reasons were made by the forward-thinking professionals to develop a community outreach programme.

1. Although, Sri Lanka has good network of primary care institutions, it does not have enough coverage to cater the growing need. Considerable number of people are living far away from the hospitals and they are having difficulties in travelling which is further hampered by the economic status of the people.
2. Lack of awareness regarding the major non-communicable diseases and its grievous complications.
3. Scarcity of basic facilities and manpower in the hospitals which are available in the vicinity of the rural areas.
4. Difficulties in conducting medical clinics due to poor infrastructure and lack of equipment facilities in the required areas.
5. Most of the people from rural areas are reluctant in attending the medical clinics due to long waiting hours which in turn will affect their income for the day.

Hence the health care facilities should be brought towards these under privilege community in the way of 'out reached services'.

OUT COME OF THE COMMUNITY PROJECT

- Screen and treat the common non-communicable diseases in the rural areas: - Non-Communicable diseases (NCDs) are diabetes mellitus, Cardio vascular diseases, Respiratory diseases, Malignancies, Chronic Kidney Disease, Eye diseases, Disability, Mental health, Oral health and nutritional assessment.
- Carry out the general medical checkup and treatment of common conditions (Communicable diseases)
- Carry out the investigations (basic investigations, ultrasound scanning, biopsy)
- Carry out the common medical procedures such as Wound dressing, Catheterization
- To improve the palliative care in rural setup
- Health educates the rural populations.

Future use of the vehicle

Bus will be bought and will be handed over to the Faculty of Medicine, University of Jaffna by the Alumni, Faculty of Medicine Jaffna. Faculty of Medicine, University of Jaffna will launch a community benefit programme with the support of Ministry of Health Sri Lanka and other stakeholders such Non-Governmental Organizations, Community based organizations and charity organizations.
